- (3) Fascia board

◆ Items included in the exhibition fee

- (a) Booth (including the above listed (1-3))
  - (b) Invitation cards for the Fair, 1 set of 100 cards (incl. envelopes) per company
- Other booth decorations, power etc. will be charged separately.

Registration for exhibitors and allocation of booths

- ◎ The organizer of the Fair will check the application to exhibit form, and then contact the person in charge regarding the reception of exhibitors.
(Applications deemed not in accordance with the general aim of the Fair will be declined.)
- ◎ The organizer will also assign the booths taking into account factors such as the exhibition category, size, content, application order and venue layout. The booth allocation will be announced to all successful applicants at the briefing for exhibitors (scheduled for mid-July).
- ◎ Booths under application cannot be transferred or lent to other parties without the approval of the organizer.

Invoice / Payment of exhibition fee

- ◎ An invoice for the exhibition fee will be issued soon after the reception for exhibitors has been completed. Please pay the fee by bank transfer to the listed account.
- ◎ Please pay the exhibition fee by the deadline stated on the invoice. Your exhibition will be cancelled if payment cannot be confirmed by this date.

Advance notification

- ◎ Matters related to the Food Sanitation Act (handling of food, etc.)
- ◎ Matters related to the Fire Service Act (cooking and demonstrations using fire and/or electrical equipment)

Prohibited matters when exhibiting

- ◆ The following acts are prohibited in the exhibition venue (except for acts which have been authorized by the organizer in advance).
    - Conducting PR activities outside of your booth and designated area
    - Any act that causes trouble for the organizer and other exhibitors (including creating loud noises and unpleasant odors, etc.)
    - Selling goods
- *There may be restrictions on the distribution of sample products.

Management / Indemnity of exhibition items

The organizer has contracted with a security company for the period covering the transport of exhibition items and the Fair itself, and works to provide management and security within the venue. However, it is exempt from liability for any accident that may occur within the booths or any damage or theft etc. of exhibition items. The exhibitors should take out damage insurance as required to cover such events.

Changes to / Cancellation of exhibition

- ◎ Please notify the organizer by email about any changes to or cancellation of your exhibits after the registration for exhibitors has been completed.
- ◎ Cancellation of your exhibits after completion of the registration will incur the following "exhibition cancellation fee".

Period	Cancellation fee
Confirmation of receiving application form - Briefing for exhibitors	50% of exhibition fee
After the briefing for exhibitors	100% of exhibition fee

- ◎ If it is found that any part of your application form contains false information, or if you are in violation of the Exhibition Rules and Regulations or any other such act, then your exhibits will be cancelled and the exhibition fee and other payments will not be refunded.

About the Cancellation/Shortening/Postponement of the Event

- ◎ In the event that it becomes extremely difficult to hold the exhibition due to a natural disaster, infectious disease, act of terrorism, instruction or order handed down from the national government or public authorities, or other force majeure situations, the organizer may cancel the exhibition, shorten the date or time for holding the exhibition, or postpone the exhibition even if it is before or during the actual exhibition period. In such cases, the organizer shall notify exhibitors of the decision and make a public announcement on it promptly after the decision has been made. Moreover, the organizer shall not be liable for any loss or damage incurred by exhibitors that results from such decisions or actions.
- ◎ If the entire exhibition is cancelled due to force majeure prior to the opening of the exhibition, the organizer shall provide exhibitors with a refund for the balance for their exhibition fees after deducting any expenses that have already been incurred.
- ◎ Exhibition fees, etc., shall not be refunded in cases where the date or time for holding the exhibition becomes shortened due to unavoidable events that occur during the duration of the exhibition (carry-in/decoration period and exhibition period). In addition, no compensation shall be provided for expenses incurred by exhibitors due to such changes.

Compensation

The exhibitor is responsible for paying compensation in the event of any damage caused by them to the equipment belonging to the organizer or exhibition venue, or any personal injury caused to other people (exhibitors, visitors, etc.).

Other

- ◎ An "Exhibitors Guideline" containing information on the Fair and operations within the venue will be issued at a later date, and made available at the briefing for exhibitors.
- ◎ In order to ensure the smooth management and operation of the exhibition, the organizer may set forth supplementary rules and regulations in addition to these current ones.
- ◎ The structure, services and other matters related to the exhibition may be subject to change.
